

CSI LAUNCHES NGO SALARY SURVEY

Tuesday 15th April 2003: CSI is happy to announce the upcoming release of the first Non-Government Organisations (NGO) Remuneration Survey. The new survey, to be published in June, is the latest to be added to CSI's suite of industry-specific salary surveys.

"The establishment of this survey can largely be attributed to the efforts and enthusiasm of both Frank Sedmak (Spastic Centre) and Ed Watts (Autism Association), acting in response to a perceived need for remuneration data within the NGO Sector," says CSI team leader Caroline Hill.

"The Survey will be managed by a steering committee, elected by participants, who will ensure the content and direction of the survey will be constantly enhanced."

The survey is open to participation from organisations operating within the community and social services sphere of the NGO sector and covers a broad range of roles, including: senior executive; marketing, fundraising and public relations; human resources; finance & administration; IT and Operations.

"We're extremely excited about the challenges associated with establishing a remuneration survey within the NGO sector," says Caroline. "We are looking forward to growing the survey in future years and seeing the survey become a key benchmarking tool for HR and Finance professionals alike."

From 2004 onwards, the survey will be produced annually in May.
